Cnr. Warrandyte & Alexander Roads,
Warrandyte

On Tuesday night I had the pleasure of attending the Warrandyte Community Bank AGM. The highlight of the evening was the awarding of almost $400,000 in grants and sponsorships to roughly 70 community groups in Warrandyte and the surrounding areas. One of these very happy recipients was Warrandyte High School. In a joint submission with the Lions Club of Warrandyte, the school had sought funding to asphalt the car park behind the school basketball stadium. I am sure parents are well aware of the shortcomings of the current gravel car park with its uneven and often damp surface. This has been an even bigger problem after hours, limiting opportunities for the greater community to share in our resources. The Community Bank grant of $25,000 will change all this, improving access and comfort for our parents and enhancing opportunities for the school to build relationships with local community organisations, sporting and theatrical groups.

On behalf of the Warrandyte High School Community I would like to formally thank the Warrandyte Community Bank for their generosity and the Lions Club of Warrandyte for their support with the submission. Both the Community Bank and the Lions Club have been great supporters of our school for many years. I would also like to thank Alicia Eldridge, President of our Parents Association; David Englefield and Geoff Taylor from the Lions Club of Warrandyte and Helene Butterworth who were the driving force behind our grant application.

Finally, I would like to add my thanks and best wishes to Sarah Wrigly and Kerry Podmore who are both stepping down from their roles with the Community Bank. They have both made significant contributions to the Warrandyte Community and to the learning experiences of students at Warrandyte High School.

Student re-enrolment packages

With the end of the year fast approaching information regarding your enrolment for 2015 should be arriving home via your child very shortly. The packages include information about booklists, uniform, fees and laptops, depending on their year of enrolment. If you do not receive a package by Friday 21st November please contact the General Office on 9844 2749

Bushfire preparedness

With the weather definitely warming up, on Monday 10th November the school held a bushfire drill. The drill went very well, with some of the outer classrooms practicing on-site evacuation to our shelter-in place in the gym. Areas for improvement were identified and we are currently working on up-dating our Emergency Management plan to incorporate these. Further information regarding Code Red days and the change in Government process will be included in a later edition of the Gang Gang after the Education Department release more detailed information.

Senior School subjects for 2015 and the VCE Transition Program

With the Year 11 exams starting this week and the Year 10 exams commencing next week we are currently finalising senior school subjects for 2015. Student subjects should be released this week.

The VCE transition program commences on Monday 24th November, following Year 10 and 11 exams. The program for Year 12 (2015) will run for one week, while the Year 11 (2015) program will run for two weeks. This is a compulsory program and all students will receive holiday homework from each of their classes to complete over the Christmas break. This program is designed to give students a head start with their VCE. Year 10 (2015) students who are undertaking VCE subjects will also be included in this program. Transition timetables will be available on the first day of the program when all students are required for a compulsory meeting. The time and location of this meeting will be posted on Compass next week.

Working Bee

Our last Working Bee for 2014 where we painted a fence and laid down the foundation mulch for our up and coming veggie garden.

Julie, Fay and Pamela did a fantastic job on freshening up our front fence while Kellie, Andrew, Daniel, Ralph and Lesley wheelbarrowed and spread mulch in readiness for our new veggie patch at the top of our school.

We finished with a lovely lunch, thank you to Pamela for making a very yummy pavlova.

Great job team what a difference you have made. Thank you.

Bronze Hike Achieved!

Well done to our Duke of Edinburgh Students. We took them to the Cathedrals Ranges last weekend for them to complete the two day circuit for their assessed Bronze Award Hike section. All students went very well and showed great team work, support and resilience They consistently adopted a positive mind set to complete the course. The venue proved extremely challenging with the mountain ridge sections being unforgiving. Students and adults carried their massive packs around the 26km route climbing and camping with no facilities. They were totally self sufficient and coped brilliantly. Congratulations on completing your adventurous journey section. We hope they continue in the next few weeks to complete and pass the three other sections of the award.

Junior Boys Rugby

Congratulations goes to Mr Kahukiwa and the junior boys who went out on Monday. They knew they would be facing tough competition and with that in mind we carried out some hard training sessions. Our focus was on developing our game strategies and positive mindset. This proved to be a good plan as the boys were fantastic! Despite facing the usual massive opposition we went in positive, kept our cool and won 3 out of our 4 games. There were some excellent tries, but what Mr Kahukiwa said made the difference was that the boys pulled together as a whole.

The unfortunately lost their last game by 1 try (4:3) to the winners of the day.

Well done and look forward to more work next year.

Our New Sister School: Xinghai Experimental Middle School

Over the past couple of weeks I have had the pleasure of visiting China on behalf of Dr Parkin and Warrandyte High School to establish a Sister School relationship with a school in Suzhou City. The trip was undertaken together with 12 Principals from Victorian schools and was almost entirely funded by the Chinese Government. It was very capably overseen by representatives of the international division of the DEECD.

Xinghai Experimental Middle School is located in Jiangsu Province on the east coast of China. It is a very small province that includes the provincial capital Nanjing and the world-renowned modern city of Shanghai. Jiangsu Province (population 80 million) has the best academic results in China, and as China sits on the top of OECD PISA test rankings for Maths, Reading and Science, the students in this province are some of the highest performing in the world. Suzhou city is home to 13 million people and Xinghai Middle School is located in the new and very modern Suzhou Industrial Park. The school is considered a small to medium sized school with 2500 students from Year 7-12. There are 14 classes of Year 7 students (48 in a class). I was fortunate enough to observe several classes and was very impressed by a showcase of the students work.

The school started in 2000 and is now very well resourced with a well-deserved reputation as a school of academic excellence in the province. As with all schools in China, Xinghai has a strong focus on Maths, Chinese and English language as their core subjects. They do offer Science, other languages, sport and some creative arts courses, although this is an area they are keen to develop further.

The school's in Jiangsu Province pride themselves on their strong focus on Globalisation in education. They actively seek connections with schools communities in other countries for cultural exchange, to build educational knowledge and learn how to improve their practice. There are many potential future opportunities for exchanges of this nature between our two schools. I had the opportunity to discuss these possibilities with Ms. Chen, the Principal of Xinghai, before signing the initial sister school memorandum of understanding.

The next phase of this exciting development is to consult widely within our school community to identify programs and activities that would be mutually beneficial, practical and manageable for consideration in 2015.

Thank you to all those who assisted me prepare and undertake this valuable trip.

After a cold winter, my second winter in the year, warm sunny days have started to appear and they are very welcome. Last Sunday, the weather didn't allow me to stay home so along with my housemates I went to the beautiful Yarra Bend Park to lay in the sun. We also walked along the Yarra, which reminded me of another glorious river, the Tiber. If you are strolling around in the centre of Rome, you'll definitely come across it, soon or later. Not as easy to find is the small island the Tiber hosts, the only one inside the city. This is my number 7 in the list of places you can't miss in Rome.

7) Isola Tiberina (Tiber Island) is the seat of the ancient temple of Asclepius, the god of medicine, and later a hospital so the island is associated with healing. There's a legend that there was a plague in Rome in 300 BC. Upon consulting the Sybil, the Romans were instructed to build a temple to Asclepius. A snake, the animal associated with the god, was seen curling itself around a ship's mast and then swimming in the Tiber to reach the island. This was a sign which meant that the god wanted his temple to be built there. That explains why, later, the island was modeled to resemble a ship. Travertine was added to resemble a ship's prow and stern, and an obelisk was erected in the middle, as if it was the mast. If your dream is a yacht holiday, but you can't afford it, getting here and sunbathing, for free, could be a far cheaper solution (and you won't need to tell your friends that the ship was a fake one). During the summer, you will also find an interesting film festival here, and a huge open air screen. One last, good, reason to visit the island is that it hosts the hospital where I was born a long time ago –together with other hundreds of babies every year.

8) Cripta dei Cappuccini (Capuchin Crypt). If Halloween is your favourite celebration, and you are not an impressionable person, just get here. Otherwise, it's probably better to stay away. In this original church, close to Barberini Square, you will discover several small chapels, all decorated with the bones and skeletons of more than 4000 monks.

9) Campo dei fiori (Field of flowers). Was a meadow during the Middle Age and it is now a beautiful square. Here, in 1600, the philosopher Giordano Bruno was burnt alive for heresy. That's why the square hosts a monument dedicated to him, which, at night, is a meeting place for people coming from the whole city. The place is usually crowded till dawn and is still crowded during the day. Since the 19th Century a daily, colourful, vegetable and fish market has been held here. Another reason to visit the place during the day is the bakery at the corner, where you can buy the best pizza bianca in Rome, and probably, ever.

10) San Lorenzo (San Lorenzo District). Close to the university, it's the area where most of the students live. Packed with alternative bookshops, second hand shops, pubs and bars, it is always noisy and lively at night. Plus, it's the home of the best chocolate in Rome (Said Factory). If you prefer salty food, you can find several cheap restaurants, serving typical Roman dishes. Otherwise, you can ring at Lanini and come at my place: me and my housemate will be happy to share our pasta.

Congratulation Clare Rayner – Finalist for the excellence and innovation award for her outstanding achievements in facilitating the Bronze Duke of Edinburgh Award

Recently Warrandyte High School and Clare Rayner received some exciting news that Clare has been selected as a finalist for the excellence and innovation award for her outstanding achievements in facilitating the Bronze Duke of Edinburgh Award. Clare was nominated by the students and parents who are currently completing the award and is a very deserving finalist.

Clare is passionate advocate of the Duke of Edinburgh awards. Since introducing the awards at Warrandyte High School she has motivated, engaged and challenged year 8 students to complete the compass award in 2013 resulting in more year 9 students enrolling in the Bronze award in 2014. Clare's enthusiasm, leadership and motivation have led to many students developing a range of skills and undertaking challenges that they otherwise would not have done. Throughout the year, Clare has given her all and worked tirelessly to provide a highly organised, educational, fun and dynamic program to support the students across all 4 components of the award. Clare runs weekly meetings, cooking challenges, practice walks, fundraising events and information sessions for students and parents to ensure the program is delivered to the highest quality. Clare thinks creatively to provide a broad range of activities that challenge and engage students of all abilities whilst ensuring they are prepared, having fun and maintaining their enthusiasm and commitment to the program.

These have included

- Trangia cooking master chef challenge where students cooked off against each other to produce a 2 course meal for their parents in preparation for their expedition
- Student led afterschool walks developing navigation skills, student leadership, improving fitness and teamwork

- Lunchtime group meetings where students take responsibility for organising and running initiative activities that foster teamwork, develop trust and communication skills.
- Providing students with individual feedback after the overnight practice hike on their strengths, weaknesses and areas to improve upon in preparation for the expedition
- Providing students with access to and supervising the school weights room afterschool so that students can develop their fitness and work towards their physical activity goal
- Monitoring, interviewing and providing feedback, guidance and encouragement to all students on a regular basis regarding progress of their skill, physical activity and community service.

Clare has really led by example. She is a cyclist who earlier in the year was involved in an accident and sustained severe injuries. However, she has shown the students through determination, hard work and a positive mindset you can reach your goals. Students have admired her courage and were delighted that she participated in the practice overnight hike against all odds. As a parent said in a letter of support for nomination "I think Clare's leadership and passion for getting the students to achieve their best is something to be applauded".

Clare will attend the Duke of Edinburgh's Gold Award Gala Function on Saturday 6 December at the Melbourne Town Hall where the winner will be announced.

Warrandyte High School congratulates Clare on being selected as a finalist and wishes her the best of luck on the night.

Aussie teens and sexting

Teens + technology

What follows won't be a surprise ...

nOodz are out there

Aussie teens— girls and boys—are sending and receiving sexually suggestive nude or nearly nude pics and videos[^]

... but it's not MY child

Parents are in the dark about how much their teens and friends are exposed to sexting[^]

Destination unknown

Once it's out there, there's no knowing where it will end up

Let's talk about sex(ting)

Talk to your kids about the legal and personal consequences

That naked pic might get them into trouble with the law—if anyone in the photo is under 18, sending, viewing or passing it round may be a crime.

A lot of naked images of teens end up on dodgy websites for adults—it's not a path to fame.

So it's happened ... how you can help

Delete Stay calm and delete: Help your child ask the people who received it to delete it. Untag it.

Report Report it: Contact the website, the ISP, the school—whoever can help get it taken down.

Support your child: Talk about it with your teen ... they need you now. If you can't deal with it on your own, get professional help for them. Remember, it's not the end of the world!
